A Miami Swindle

There is always someone around who will try to turn a charitable cause into a fast buck. Right now that someone (or ones) is working in Miami collecting dollars from the families of Cuban prisoners, lawyer James B. Donovan said yesterday. The swindlers are posing as Donovan's agents, and it's no wonder that the Cuban refugees are falling for it, because the lawyer negotiated the release of more than 1,000 prisoners earlier this year. The Dade County, Fla., prosecutor told Donovan that families have paid as much as $750 to the so-called "agents" to obtain the release of prisoners. "No group or individual is authorized to solicit any funds in my name," said Donovan.
